

CRAIG GLAS CASTLE

Release Date

March 30th 2023

RRP

£7.99

Extent/Number of Pages

208

Available as

Paperback

Trim Size

12.9cm x 19.8cm

ISBN

978-1-915439-30-7

WHAT'S IN IT?

- Strong and engaging female protagonist.
- Multiple storylines.
- Reference to historical Events.
- Supernatural themes.
- Engages with real life Issues.

MARKETING, PUBLICITY, PRESS

- Will appeal to fans of Michelle Briscoombe's The House on March Lane, which is the first book in the series.
- Michelle's debut novel, Silent Mountain, was chosen for interpretation by the BookSlam 2014 winners and short-listed for the Tir na n'Og Award.
- Michelle was one of 25 awarded a Literature Wales Writers' Bursary in 2015.
- Michelle will visit a number of schools and libraries to engage readers. She has connections from her previous tour.

ABOUT THE BOOK

It had been ten months since the ghosts had started talking to Flora and her best friend Archie at her dad's reclamation and antiques warehouse. So, when the two friends are offered a trip to Wales, and a break from the ghosts, to pick up some antiques from Craig Glas Castle, they can't wait to go. But not everything at Craig Glas Castle is what it seems!

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Michelle Briscoombe was born in Cardiff and now lives in Barry, South Wales. Michelle has always written when ideas come knocking and still has several stories in the attic that she wrote when she was a child. This is the third children's book Michelle has written, following the first in a series of ecological adventure books, Silent Mountain, The Adventures of Jack Jupiter. The House on March Lane is Michelle's second novel, which was well received by children all over the country. Craig Glas Castle is the long awaited sequel in this series.

Candy Jar Books / Candy Jar Ltd Mackintosh House, 136 Newport Road, Cardiff, CF24 1DJ
Tel: +44 (0)29 2115 7202 / (0) 7766 227 171 Email: enquiries@candy-jar.co.uk Website: www.candy-jar.co.uk